My name is Ray Bruce. March of this year, 2004, I came across Paul's ad in the Thrifty Nickel, Fort Collins, Colorado. I am a singer/songwriter who has wanted to record my songs for a long time. I called (CVP) and set up a short meeting (1 hour) with Paul and immediately knew it was going to work.

His professionalism and integrity become more and more obvious with every session. Paul is a very accomplished musician as well as a technical wizard (on the Roland VS 2480 digital workstation).

I really appreciate the cooperation and patience he has demonstrated. He creates an atmosphere that both relaxes and inspires. I am constantly amazed at the efficiency and quality of our time spent in the studio.

Paul has helped bring my music to life in a very short time. At the end of every session I walk out feeling very pleased with our progress and Paul's contribution as a studio musician on my CD. And when I return for my next session, Paul has new things added to my music that bring the sound of a full professional band (to the song).

If you have that burning desire to bring the music in your head or on paper to a full, rich, complete CD, I urge you to talk to Paul and book some time in the studio.

Believer me, this has been a very satisfying and economical process and I can't wait until I have my own CD, though, I will miss the time I have spent with Paul. (I guess I had better start writing more songs!).

I will be happy to answer any questions you might have. Just call 970-353-3918. Please leave a message if I miss your call.

Once again, thank you Paul and Clear Voice Productions. I couldn't have done this without you.

Your Client and new friend,

Ray Bruce
